

Waste of Time

The world is all around us is the world of matter and materialism but is it really? The things happened on the base of reality or on the base of illusion/spiritual factor the question arise when the same condition applicable to the person two different psychological factor the like the crime is encourage by poverty is it the reality or just the baseless fact if we accept that is reality but poverty is what the reality or the mental factor hunger, clothing and cover is so called essentials so the people they don't got these thing are become poor but the people who got are not rich when someone think he is poor is he became poor and when someone think he is lucky enough to live free in the time of psycho slavery is he really free and rich our believe our move is real but it depends upon a factor that we got from illusionary source. The ways to get thoughts are countless the major are education & experience etc but the are the thoughts are generated by us or feed into us by some source what the source the education and world experience are also developed by our own self so who can we get experienced world lonely according to our own nature the move we carry on the feed in us by some illusionary source we are free in our thoughts which also feed by the same source so the what the source really is which control us all and we don't even feel that we are not self control we are just like robots and no robot knows until originator feed him that he is robot so we are so the originator is the source or he is just a operator and source is also far behind this is this really means for us just Waste of Time.
